Be our Friend!

Coventry Resource Centre for the Blind is a vibrant and growing charity supporting people with visual impairments across the city.

Sight loss can happen to anyone and often leads to social isolation and poor physical and mental health. At CRCB our aim is to help people with poor sight learn to adapt, help them to get out and meet people and live as fully and actively as possible.

From small beginnings the Resource Centre is now open Monday to Friday offering a wide range of social activities and skills training, from clubs and crafts to cooking and computers. Public transport can be difficult for people with low vision to use, so we also offer a minibus service bringing people from all over Coventry to our centre in Earlsdon.

We rely on fundraising and donations to continue our work, and we are working to expand significantly in the next couple of years. Regular donations help us to plan better and bring in more to support our activities.

Please will you consider becoming a Friend of CRCB and making a monthly donation to the Resource Centre. You will receive regular updates about how the charity is developing and invitations to our events.
